

Bio

Souichi Nakamura

Mr. Nakamura most recently is the founder of Interpacific Network Corporation, one of the founders of Michael Moto, LLC, and has been the Executive Vice President, Global Business Development for The Knowledge Webb, Inc., TKW, since 2003. TKW is the world's premier intellectual capital applications company with clients including 3M Corporation, BMW-America, The Boeing Company, Imation Corp, Sumitomo Group Companies, and many others.

Prior to joining TKW in 2003, Mr. Nakamura worked for and with Japanese major integrated trading companies (Sogo-Shosha) and was in charge of exclusive distribution for one of America's largest golf brands, new technology ventures including those developed by MIT Media Lab, multi-hundred million dollar contracts and strategic relationship between Fortune 100 companies and Sogo-Shoshas.

Mr. Nakamura is also known as a music producer and musician (Super Vocalist Award Finalist, Taurus Record, one of the major labels in Japan / Guitarist, vocal, and drummer for a world music band distributed by Columbia Music Entertainment ), and over the years has been working with major record labels, production companies, entertainment management companies, TV stations, Radio stations, Newspapers and other media. He was also instrumental in establishing Japan America Music Production, the first Japanese think-tank for the music industry in Japan.

Mr. Nakamura holds degrees in Law (LLB) and Commercial Science (B), and is bilingual in Japanese and English.

-- Sleeping Giant Team 